LOCAL RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Young Men's Union Prayer Meeting will be held this (Saturday) evening, at half-past seven o'clock, in the First United Presbyterian Church, (Rev. Reid's) Seventh street, between Smithfield and Grant streets. All are invited.

Rev. Smith Curtis, of Georgetown, will preach in the Plymouth Congregational Church, on Hand street, to-morrow morning and evening. Services will commence at the usual hour.

A new Methodist Episcopal Church is being erected at Clark's Corners, Erie Conference.

A gracious revival is going on at the Hillville M. E. Church, on the Mt. Jackson and Shenango charge. Thirty-eight have professed their faith in Christ.

Fine revival influences are also prevailing on the Kelloggsville M. E. charge. Twenty-five have been recently added to the church. The Centenary offering for church building and repairing amounts to $1,500.

The new Methodist Episcopal Church at Sandy Creek, on Wilkinsburg charge, Rev. W. W. Roup, pastor, will be dedicated to-morrow to the worship of Almighty God. Rev. I. C. Pershing, D. D., of this city, will preach the dedication sermon at half-past ten o'clock, A. M.

On Sunday afternoon at four and a half o'clock, Bishop Kerfoot will hold an Episcopal service in the Rev. Mr. Ungler's Church in Manchester, which has been kindly tendered by the pastor for that purpose. The attention of our Manchester reader is directed to this service.

THE title of the company whose locomotive took the prize at Paris was the Grand Company, of Paterson.

GOVERNOR GEARY has appointed Columbus Cornforth, Inspector of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, under the new law. Mr. Cornforth is the present superintendent of common schools of McKean county. He was a private in the original Bucktail Regiment, and bears on his person honorable wounds.

NEARLY every kind of society is holding its anniversary meeting just now—societies for the conversion of the heathen, for reforming abuses of nearly every kind, and for combatting error and vice in general and particular; but among them all we observe not one that has for its object the building of free churches, so that the many—as well as the few who now enjoy the privilege—can attend public worship without being placed on back seats and pauperized. Some such society, it strikes us, would find a wide field at its hands.

THE Mercer Dispatch, in referring to the removal of Mr. Sherill, the Republican Postmaster at that place, and the appointment and confirmation of W. S. Garvin, secesh Democrat, to the office, takes occasion to remind the Legislative Representatives from that district of the betrayal of their constituents in the election of United States Senator in January last. The confirmation of Garvin's appointment, who is an old personal, and at one time political friend of Senator Cameron, it is charged, was secured through the kindly offices of Mr. Cameron.

The Fire at Oil City Yesterday Morning.

The following additional particulars of the fire at Oil City yesterday morning, have been received: R. D. Cochrane & Co.'s warehouse, office, stable and carpenter shop were destroyed. Also, about two hundred and twelve carboys of acid. Several boats were lost. A large number of barrels were sent adrift. No information in regard to insurance. The American House and its contents, and three dwellings were entirely destroyed; partially covered by insurance in the Oil City Mutual Insurance Company. There was but one house on the opposite side of the street burned. But for the utmost exertions on the part of the citizens and firemen, the flames would have spread much further. Mawhinney's loss is from $15,000 to $20,000. Everything was destroyed but one of his tanks. It contained 9,000 barrels of oil, which is safe. Not a dollar's insurance on his property. Two men, one named Moritz, were severely injured by the falling buildings.

A WANDERING DISTRICT ATTORNEY.—The Bedford Inquirer, in announcing the appointment of E. F. Kerr, Esq., as District Attorney for Bedford county, in place of John Palmer, Esq., who decamped some time in February or March, says: "Palmer left Bedford with Mr. Meyers and others to spend a few weeks in Washington, D. C. On the return of the party to Huntingdon, he is represented as oversleeping himself and going on up the road to the next station, from which he returned to Huntingdon, but too late for the Broad Top train. He loafed around Huntingdon for several hours, when he announced he would go up to Altoona and see some friends and return with a late train. He was afterwards seen in Pittsburgh, and still later by a lady of the upper end of the county, somewhere in Ohio. It is currently reported that he passed through Huntingdon on Sunday evening, the 5th inst., on the Cincinnati express. Whether this be so or not, it is evident that he has deserted his friends here. He had collected several thousand dollars of back pay, bounty and pension for different persons, a number of them poor widows, which he has either squandered or taken with him. It is not presumed that Mr. Meyers was cognizant of his intentions, or knows anything of his whereabouts."

WEDNESDAY evening last Du Chaillu addressed an audience of ladies and gentlemen at the Travelers' Club, in New York. He prefaced his remarks by saying that he had "no idea that any ladies were to be present." He told his hearers that he had made extensive collections of chimpanzees, gorillas and birds, "and among the rest, one hundred and twenty skulls of negroes." He spoke of the Africans' habit of eating human flesh, next to which "they esteemed that of the gorilla most palatable." He said he had himself often eaten monkey with much satisfaction, and thought it "equal to the finest venison." Men married "at all ages, and had any number of wives." Sometimes when one hundred years old, "they take wives, and the older they are the younger they appear to want their wives to be." "Husbands and beaux sometimes made their wives love them by beating them. If they found their wives getting lukewarm, they would apply the bastinado until the spouse promised to love them to-morrow, or at some other time." He knew one native who had three hundred wives, and heard of another who had six hundred.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

Hon. Green Clay Smith, Governor of Montana, and General Heath, Secretary of New Mexico, are in St. Louis, en route to their respective posts of duty. Both gentlemen are accompanied by their families, and intend to establish their permanent residences in the territories.

A dispatch from Texas, received by the President, says that by reason of General Griffin's order requiring the exclusion of jurors who cannot take the test oath, the courts are closed, the question is asked, is this ruling approved by the President. No answer will be given until the Attorney General's opinion shall be completed.

The Southern rebels do not like the interpretation of the reconstruction acts given by the military commanders. It is said suggestions and petitions in great numbers have been received by the Administration recently from citizens within the Southern military districts, relative to the proper construction of the reconstruction acts. In nearly all the communications there is to be found complaint of the too liberal interpretations put upon the law by some of the commanders, which, it is claimed, is the very reverse of the mode of construing the law that should be adopted.

It is stated that Chief Justice Chase had nothing whatever to do with the issue of the writ of habeas corpus in the case of Jeff. Davis, and his name was attached as a mere matter of form. The Commander of Fortress Monroe will put the prisoners in the hands of the United States Marshal, who will be held responsible for his custody. Mr. Davis will be furnished rooms at the Spottswood Hotel, Richmond, till after hearing of the writ; thus the Government does not release its hold upon the prisoner, and the matter of bail has not been thought of. The case is one merely as to why the Government holds the prisoner. The report that Chief Justice Chase is to go to Richmond, is unfounded. He knew nothing of the issue of the writ of habeas corpus in Davis's case till after its issue.

Late intelligence from Fort Larned is to the effect that Hancock's operations on Smoky Hill route have driven the southern Cheyennes north. They are moving in four war parties. They struck the South Platte road between Galesburg and Denver night before last and burned two ranches. The Indian Commission are in council with the Indians here. Messengers from the north have arrived, and state that large numbers of Indians desire to come in and make peace—Red Cloud included. Numerous war parties are on the road between here and Fort Phil Kearney. The Indians say they shall be withdrawn.

Postmaster General Randall has finally issued an order to all postmasters who now have uncalled-for letter lists published in newspapers, to give it to any paper that will publish it gratuitously. They will then stop it in the paper which charges for the publication of the lists. It is questionable if any newspaper in the principal cities can be found to publish the lists on the terms proposed by Mr. Randall.

List of Nominations and Rejections.

A list of the nominations made by the President and rejected by the Senate during the special session of the Fortieth Congress has just been completed. It was printed for the confidential use of the Senate, but a copy has leaked out. The following are the number rejected for the positions named: Postmasters, 113; Collectors and Assessors of Revenue, 57; Surveyors of Customs, 13; Collectors of Customs, 5; Naval Officers, 5; Indian Agents, 2; Public Lands, 4; Pension Agents, 3; Consuls, 2; Consul Generals, 3; Minister to Austria, 2. There were twenty-six nominations made which were neither confirmed nor rejected, but were laid over. The most prominent of this number are Raymond for Austria, Capron for Agricultural Bureau, Sidney Howard Gay for Assessor in New York city, and C. S. Franklin for Naval Officer for New York. At the regular session of the Senate for the Fortieth Congress, the following is the number rejected: Postmasters, 109; Collectors and Assessors, 58; Austrian mission, 2; Pension Agents, 5. During the session of the Senate for the Thirty-Ninth Congress the following were rejected: Postmasters, 96; Collectors, 83; Collectors of Customs, 22; Postmasters, 108.

Sailors' Bounties.

The Secretary of the Navy has decided that sailors and marines, honorably discharged from service, are entitled to the full amount of bounty the same as if they served their full term of enlistment. Heretofore they have been paid only the pro rata amount up to the time of discharge.

The Impeachment Investigation.

The Judiciary Committee to-day heard the evidence of F. M. Trenholm, of the firm of Frazer, Trenholm & Company, and brother of the witness examined this week relative to the pardon business, and Colonel Andrews, of West Virginia. The latter testified relative to the pardon of one hundred and fifty soldiers alleged to be deserters.

The Trial of Davis.

The Star this evening says: "There is now believed to be little doubt that Jeff. Davis is to be tried during the present term of the United States Circuit Court at Richmond. Judge Underwood announced in court on Wednesday that Chief Justice Chase would come to Richmond on the adjournment of the Supreme Court, and take his place on the bench of the Circuit Court, and the Alexandria Gazette says Randolph Tucker, one of the counsel for Davis, has been summoned from his home in Middlebury, Loudon county, Virginia, by the associate counsel, to be present in Richmond on Monday, 13th inst."

Increase of Public Debt.

The statements of the public debt for some months to come will show a considerable increase of the same. The amount of coin and currency required to pay the interest falling due on the first of May, June and July is very large, and will cause a great decrease of funds in the vaults of the Treasury.

Cabinet Meeting.

The Cabinet meeting to-day was a long one. The questions arising under the reconstruction act, propounded by Generals Sheridan and Schofield, were under consideration, and the Attorney General gave a resume of his opinion on the same. It will be published at length in a few days. It is understood that he holds the removal of civil officers where they are not obstructing the law, to be illegal. Secretary Browning and Postmaster General Randall were not able to attend the Cabinet meeting, but were represented by the Assistant Secretaries of their Departments.

The Russian Mission.

Senator Doolittle's Russian Mission, it is established, relates to the recently ratified treaty. Quite a spicy correspondence has arisen between the two governments relative to the payment of large telegraph bills for messages over the cable. One bill foots up nearly nine thousand dollars in gold, and Secretary Seward maintains that it was incurred by the Russian authorities. The American land lines having paid the Cable that sum, are looking to the State Department for reimbursement.

The Washington Registry.

The question of the refusal to open the registry of this city to allow additional votes to register, was brought into court to-day, and the legality of the case is to be tested. The board decline on the ground that while the registration was proceeding, every opportunity was allowed all qualified voters to register.

WASHINGTON, May 10, 1867.

PRIZE FIGHT.

Davis vs. Elliott---Only Nine Rounds Fought---Elliott Declared the Winner---Disgraceful Scenes.

CLEVELAND, May 10.—Sam Davis and Jim Elliott fought at 10:30 A. M., to-day at a Point au Pelee Island. Elliott won by a foul, after nine rounds, occupying eleven minutes, Davis going down without a blow. Davis was badly punished, and is said by many to have sold the fight. Elliott got the first blood and knock down in the first round, and in each succeeding round Davis went down to avoid. He was several times warned. On the boat from Detroit, there were two savage fights, in one of which a man had his nose and ear bitten off. Otherwise the affair was orderly.

THE Zanesville Courier of the 6th says: The taking of the testimony of the Delano-Morgan contest has progressed far enough to assure the result. This is already proven by the evidence taken, and plenty of votes to spare.

PROTECTION TO AMERICAN INDUSTRY.

Important Meeting of Leading Manufacturers.

The conference of leading manufacturers at the Astor House, in New York, Wednesday, the 8th instant, was an important event, of which the telegraph briefly noticed. Peter Cooper presided. Delegates from all the principal manufacturing seats were in attendance, including a number from Pittsburgh, among whom were Cunningham & Ihmsen, Wm. McCully & Co., Hailman, Rahm & Co., Zug & Co., Spang, Chalfant & Co., Nimick & Co., Hussey, Wells & Co., Reese, Graff & Dull, Park, Brother & Co. Gov. Geary sent a letter regretting his inability to be present. Besides the speech of Mr. Cooper, on taking the chair, Mr. Greeley made one quite to the point, as usual. Morton McMichael, on behalf of the committee, read the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, That in the present critical and alarming condition of the industrial affairs of the United States, it is expedient to establish a National Association, composed of men representing all sections and all industries of the country, and charged with the responsibility of guarding the rights and protecting the interests of industry, such Association being designed not to promote the advantage of any special class or any particular section, but to advance the general welfare of the entire country; and that a committee representing as far as possible the various branches of the industry of the country be named by the President, of which he shall be chairman, to mature a plan of organization, to be reported to a meeting subject to the call of the President.

Resolved, That one of the objects of this organization shall be to investigate into the existing relations of capital and labor, and report such plans as may seem best calculated to prevent all conflict, and secure that harmony of action and perfect co-operation in interest which is so necessary to the well being of both.

Resolved, That American production, whether of the field, the factory, or the mine, is a harmonious unit—that there is, therefore, no conflict of interest between American producers, whether they be agriculturists, manufacturers and miners—each class being dependent on the others for a profitable market for the products of their industry, and all being alike concerned in securing the industrial independence of the nation.

Resolved, That the material prosperity, the political independence, and the social and moral welfare of the people of the United States depend upon the profitable employment of the labor of the working classes, and that we therefore regard the adequate remuneration of labor, representing as it does, a citizenship, a political power, the possession of the homestead, the use of good food, and the wearing by the workingman and his family of good clothes, the subscription to newspapers, and the purchase of books, the education of children, and the attendance on religious instruction, as the foundation and security of the comfort, liberty and civilization of our people.

Resolved, That all experience of the past proves the worthlessness of the foreign market to the farmers of this country, and demonstrates that the interest of all the agriculturists in the United States lies in building up home manufactures under the protection of tariffs so as to increase the number of consumers of their projects to diminish the cost of their transportation and to secure to them steady, sure, and remunerative markets, and establish beyond controversy the fact there can be no practical protection to American farmers except what they receive from the existence and extension of American manufactures; that all articles imported the elements of whose production we possess, are importations in manufactured form of farm products and labor, which come in direct and injurious competition with the products of the farms and labors of the United States.

Resolved, That this meeting recognizes the wisdom and the soundness of the principles of social and political philosophy so ably expounded by Henry C. Carey, which, demonstrating the eternal harmony existing between the interests of all producers and the inevitable dependence of liberty and civilization upon prosperous industry, teach that profitable employment of the people and the establishment of the Industrial Independence of the Nation, should be the aim at once of the Philanthropist, the Patriot, and the Statesman, and pledges itself to use every means in its power, to give as wide and general a circulation as possible to publications calculated to make the people, but especially the young, familiar with these beneficent and ennobling doctrines, which will enable them to detect and expose the pernicious fallacies put forth by the advocates and agents of foreign interests.

The following resolution was also adopted, after which the meeting adjourned till the 22d of May:

Resolved, That the friends of American industry and labor throughout the United States be earnestly requested to meet in their respective towns and counties, and organize, without delay, Union Protective Leagues, on the basis of a fair and reasonable protection to the agricultural and manufacturing interests and free labor of the country, and report their several organizations to the National Association now about to be organized.

STATE ITEMS.

J. W. Smith, Esq., of Meadville, has withdrawn his name as a candidate for County Treasurer, and says he is not a candidate so long as there are crippled soldiers who desire office.

The Clearfield Journal of this week says: George Dickinson, who, during the past winter, was engaged in scaling logs for the Messrs. Flynn, in this county, on Friday night, May 31, committed suicide by jumping off the bridge into the river at Tyrone, thus drowning himself. His body was recovered on Saturday morning about two hundred yards down the stream.

Three or four months ago, two quiet and inoffensive young men, strangers in the locality, named Cunningham and Treple, attended a party at a tavern in Portersville, Butler county. During the night, a fight occurred, when the whole party turned upon Treple and Cunningham, both of whom were finally killed by being stabbed. A jury of the county, after a lengthy trial, have convicted John B. Addington of murder in the first degree, in the killing of Cunningham. His counsel made a motion for a new trial, and it was argued last week, the counsel contending that the degree of murder was too high. The Judges on hearing the argument were divided in their opinion, and will not give a decision until June. If the Judges were of the mind of our able jurists, there would be no division of opinion. An individual who carries a formidable knife continually on his person may not be a murderer at heart, but when he uses it, except in defense of his life, and death ensues, the law holds that he is.

Wednesday afternoon a colored man named Francis Derm, residing in Harrisburg, was returning on an engine from work on the Lebanon Valley Railroad, and in attempting to alight while the locomotive was in motion, he fell to the ground in front of the wheels and his head was severed from his body.

Mr. John F. Deal, formerly County Treasurer of Philadelphia, and a prominent citizen, was killed on the Camden and Amboy Railroad, Wednesday afternoon, near Camden. He had been on a sporting tour, and was endeavoring to cross the railroad as the express train was approaching, when he was caught on the tender of the locomotive and tossed very high in the air. He died almost immediately.

The Home for Friendless and Soldiers' Orphan Children of the borough and county of York was formally dedicated to the benevolent uses for which it is designed, at York, on Tuesday. The edifice is a splendid four-story brick building, erected on a plat of ground of one acre, in an elevated locality, commanding a beautiful view of the surrounding country. One hundred children can be accommodated in it, and it is rapidly filling up. The edifice has cost not far from $25,000.

The Erie Dispatch pays the following deserved tribute to the State Lecturer, Rev. W. A. Davidson, of the Independent Order of Good Templars: Mr. Davidson is worthy of great credit for the able and persistent efforts he has made in the cause of temperance, and he has found a host of assistants who are carrying out the good work he has begun. Since the first of January last he has organized thirty-seven lodges in Western Pennsylvania, and those in the counties of Erie and Warren have trebled their membership.

IT is doubtful, from present indications, if the Secretary of the Treasury will be able to prevent an increase of the National debt the present fiscal year. The expenses of the War Department will be largely in excess of the estimation. The requisitions of the War Department for Quartermaster's service, pay and subsistence departments, miscellaneous service and the Freedmen's Bureau since the 1st of March upto this date—two months and seven days—amount to $25,934,805 87, which, however, includes $1,504,711 26, the amount found due the State of Pennsylvania for expenses during the rebellion as covered into the Treasury as her quota of direct tax. This does not include $400,000 requested for pay department, upon which no warrant has issued.

From this it appears that the expenses of the War Department for the fiscal year will be from one hundred and twenty to one hundred and fifty millions, or five to six times as much as the estimated expenses. It is very certain that under existing circumstances Mr. McCulloch does not feel at liberty to borrow, and it is understood, that inasmuch as the payments for interest this month are very heavy, he will recommend that the Secretary of War suspend payments of bounties for the present, if not until Congress shall make special provisions for them.

PETROLEUM FOR FUEL.—The English government is making preparations for a final trial of the relative merits of coal and oil as fuel for generating steam. An ordinary service boiler, belonging to a gunboat, is first to be tried with coal, at the common rate of combustion, and then forced consumption, to the greatest amount of evaporation the boiler is capable of. The coal grates are then to be taken out and oil grates substituted. The process is to be carried out to its fullest extent, high, super-heated steam and hot-air being introduced. Coal and oil will thus be tried for the first time in exactly equal conditions, and the results are anticipated with interest.

SOMERSET REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.—The Somerset Whig of Wednesday says: At the early hour we are compelled to go to press, the returns of the Primary election are not all received. Colonel Weller is of course renominated for the Legislature, and Captain Grim for Treasurer, Peter Aunan for Commissioner, Tobias Meyers for the Director of the Poor, and Philip F. Cupp, are all unquestionably nominated, by decisive majorities.

Hon. Wm. D. Kelley, of this State, arrived in New Orleans Thursday, and was welcomed by a committee of citizens, headed by the Mayor and Common Council. Among the delegation were several colored individuals. The Judge responded to the welcome at the St. Charles Hotel to a large audience.

SECOND EDITION.

4 O'CLOCK, A. M.

FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

Writ Served on Gen. Burton--Davis to be Taken to Richmond To-Day.

FORTRESS MONROE, May 10.—The writ of habeas corpus in the case of Jeff. Davis was served this morning on Gen. Burton by Marshal Underwood and Deputy Marshal Duncan. General Burton at first decided to deliver Mr. Davis over to the custody of the Marshals to-morrow morning, but afterwards determined on obeying the writ literally, requiring him to produce Davis before the Richmond Court. Davis and family, General Burton and the Marshals will take the steamer to-morrow for Richmond. General Burton, on Monday, will personally produce the prisoner in Court. In the event of Davis being released by Judge Underwood under the writ, he will be immediately re-arrested and placed on trial under an indictment for treason.

Robert Ould and numerous other visitors reached here this morning, bringing boquets and other presents to Davis and family. The utmost interest and anxiety is manifested at Norfolk respecting the probabilities of the trial and release of Davis. The following is a copy of Gen. Burton's orders:

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, May 8.

To Brevet Brigadier General H. L. Burton, Commanding Officer Fortress Monroe:

The President of the United States directs you to surrender Jefferson Davis, now held in confinement under military authority at Fortress Monroe, to the United States Marshal or deputies upon any process which may issue from the Federal Court of the State of Virginia. You will report the action taken by you on this order, and forward a copy of the process served upon you to this office.

By order of the President.

[Signed,] E. D. TOWNSEND, A. A. G.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

Mill Burned--Four Persons Poisoned--Union Pacific Railroad Progressing Rapidly--Payment of State Interest.

ST. LOUIS, May 10.—The large flouring mill of Ellis Coppie, at Centralia, Ill., was burned last week. Loss $20,000; no insurance.

A lady and three servants were poisoned on Tuesday by eating candy saturated with croton oil, and are now very sick, one or two of them dangerously so.

Track laying on the Union Pacific Railway, Eastern Division, is progressing at the rate of two and a half miles per day. The road will be completed to Fort Harker, and graded fifty miles beyond by the first of June. The business of the road last month was one hundred thousand dollars, and the earnings for the first week of May thirty-five thousand.

A correspondence between Gov. Fletcher and the State Auditor on the subject of State finance indicates that the July interest on the State bonds will be promptly paid.

From Richmond.

RICHMOND, May 10.—Joe. Kelley, tried for the murder of Jessie Murphy, at a horse race, was acquitted.

The present indications are that there will be no demonstration by the public on the arrival of Davis, through deference to the wishes of the authorities.

There was a large meeting of negroes to-night, and the usual number of addresses.

It seems impossible to ascertain positively whether Davis will be tried to-day or not. In conversation Judge Underwood said if the trial did not take place, it would be because the attorneys on one side or the other were not ready to proceed; that the court was ready, and the Chief Justice would preside. On the other hand, Chandler, the District Attorney, expresses doubts whether the trial will take place.

The statement that the Grand Jury had indicted the proprietors of certain newspapers is unfounded. To-day the Grand Jury, after consultation with General Schofield, refused to indict a street car conductor for the ejection of the negro Scott, on Friday.

From Springfield, Mass.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., May 10.—Orders were received at the United States armory, for a large immediate increase in the production of breech-loaders of the latest model. The force of workmen will be greatly enlarged, and old muskets remodelled at the rate of 500 or 600 per day.

A National Convention of railroad carmakers will be held here on the 15th inst.

From Memphis.

MEMPHIS, May 10.—The proceedings of the Southern Baptist Church to-day were confined to the reception of reports from various committees, and able arguments showing the necessity of building up and sustaining the Southern Theological Seminary at Greenville, S. C., were made by Dr. Pointdexter, of Virginia, L. McCury, of Alabama, Dr. Sampson, of Washington, and others.

Tragedy at Sea.

MONTREAL, May 10.—A tragedy occurred on board the Nestorian during her voyage to this port. A lady, name unknown, embarked at Liverpool, and between that port and Derry discovered her former husband on board, and was so seized by remorse that she sprung over the side of the vessel and was drowned.

Union Pacific Road.

T. J. Carter, Esq., a Government Director in the Union Pacific Railroad, has made a report to Secretary Browning, in which he states that nearly six hundred miles of the road are in operation, and probably four hundred miles more will be completed during the present year. The Union Pacific Railroad Company has contracted two hundred and twelve miles to the base of the Rocky Mountains, and has also arranged for bridging the Missouri river at or near Omaha, which will give a continuous line of railroad for a distance of over two thousand miles westward from the Atlantic Coast. A large party of Congressmen and capitalists, with some newspaper men, will leave to inspect the Western portion of this road that is finished, in June.

"The British Volcano."

Wilkes' Spirit for this week has an article with this title, based on the great reform meeting in London which was held since the article was written. In the course of it the following striking paragraph occurs:

"The nominal object of that meeting is to demand an extension of the right of suffrage; but the sense of oppression entertained by its component parts, lies deeper than that text, while the smouldering purpose of its leaders has a broader scope. Its true object is "bread for the laborer," and "free trade in land;" and this latter object can only be accomplished by a thorough revolution. That such a revolution is at hand, we are well persuaded. That it may come at any moment, from a people who have been entirely wrested of the land, and who have very little bread, no judgment can deny. There are many persons, nevertheless, who think that a country which has gone on so long in safety, can still go on for any conceivable time in the same way; but this class of optimists do not reflect that there must always be a culmination to every practice—a time, when every false social system, like our old slave system of the South, being touched with the new fire of progress, must explode. We think we are on the eve of this social and political explosion in Great Britain."

THE Bedford Inquirer of yesterday says: The Harrisburg Telegraph appears to be annoyed by a few of the Republican papers of the State that have the manliness to denounce the late corrupt Legislature and at the same time vindicate their honest Representatives. The same paper defended Stutzman! We are not surprised at its "holy horror."

How the "New Ironsides" was Saved.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial gives an account of a conversation which he had in Nashville with Col. Morgan, the father of Morgan, the rebel raider. In the course of the talk the old man narrated the circumstances of a narrow escape from destruction which the New Ironsides had. As the story is new in this part of the country, we will copy it:

"While we were talking in a general way about the war, Colonel Morgan said he had had a tolerable good time of it, all things considered, and he didn't believe he had lost more than one night's sleep from the first to the last of it. 'And that was the night I lay awake to hear the Ironsides blown up.' He then related to me the plan by which the Ironsides was to have been destroyed—but wasn't. A General Raines of the rebel army—a West Pointer, somewhat celebrated as a chemist—had conceived the idea of blowing her out of the water as she attempted to pass up the channel near Charleston. To this end he had prepared an iron boiler, forty-two feet long and forty inches in diameter, which he filled with powder and sunk directly in the channel, in such a position that the doomed ship must pass over it in going up. A wire extended from the boiler to the shore, and by means of it and a galvanic battery the powder was to be ignited. The Ironsides was watched with intense interest, until one day she made steam, and after moving about in different directions, cast anchor in the channel, directly over the magazine prepared for her destruction. As the old gentleman said in relating the matter 'she couldn't have come up nicer if we had steered her ourselves.' All that was necessary now was to work the battery, and away would go the Ironsides. But the battery wouldn't work—something was wrong—after all possible effort no explosion could be produced; and there rode the big ship in perfect safety, though if those on board had known what was under them, they wouldn't have felt safe, I think. The experiment of General Raines was finally abandoned. A submarine torpedo boat was sent down against the Ironsides, which damaged her, but not materially; and after a short time she weighed anchor and went away. The rebels then raised the sunken boiler to ascertain what was the cause of its failure to accomplish what was expected of it. All the powder was taken out, and the boiler was subjected to hydraulic pressure to ascertain if the defect was in it. It was then discovered that a hole, not larger than might be made with a cambric needle in a piece of cloth, had spoiled the powder and saved the Yankee ship."

Ritualism in London.

A London paper speaks as follows of the ritual observances in some of the London churches on Easter Sunday:

"The impending prosecution of the incumbent of St. Alban's does not seem to have had much deterring influence upon the other High Church clergy of London. In some of the more 'advanced' churches Easter Day has been celebrated with much ritual pomp. At St. Michael's, Shoreditch, the ceremonial was, perhaps, more elaborate than at any other. After morning prayer a procession of priests and choristers was formed. It was headed by a handsome brass processional cross, and by acolytes clad in white and scarlet, one of whom bore a censer, which he swung from side to side, filling the church with the fumes. Then followed the choristers, singing as they went, and some of them bearing elaborate banners. The sermon was of about seven minutes duration, and was preached by Mr. Lytord, the incumbent, a chorister holding one of the crosses at the foot of the pulpit meanwhile. Previously to the prayer for the church militant, the names of the sick were called over, and then the people were asked to pray for the repose of the souls of the Bishop of Rochester, Warwick Wroth and other deceased persons. The service throughout was performed with an elaborate minuteness of ceremonial that was almost bewildering. The three clergymen, who were arrayed in vestments of white and gold, now stood apart, now in a row, now behind each other. The subdeacon read the epistle, with his face turned to the south wall of the chancel; he held the gospel-book high up on the level of his head, while the deacon read it from the topmost step of the altar. The acolytes all this time kept swinging the censer, and the cloud of smoke ascended to the roof of the very lofty church. The music was, of course, very fine. The congregation was composed chiefly of the working classes."

Texas Cattle Inoculating Northern Herds.

Lately the herds of Missouri and some of the other Western States have developed a fatal disease contracted from Texas cattle, and serious losses have ensued therefrom. On this subject a writer in the Southern Cultivator offers the following observations:

I notice that cattle scarcely ever take the fever, if left remain where they were raised, and I am fully convinced it is generally brought on by a change of climate. For instance, you take cattle from the mountain country to the low country, and they will take the fever in a short time and die, but their disease will not affect the cattle raised there; but on the other hand, take cattle raised in what we call a distempered part of our country—that is, the low country, from warm latitudes—up into a colder one, they will themselves improve all the time; but without being sick themselves, they will spread the fever, and kill the cattle in the section of country into which they are taken, till they travel on, stay, or have staid, long enough for the fever to leave the system. I have been in the habit of driving cattle from Florida to Virginia, and found my cattle to improve and do well; but after I passed the line of 34 degrees, they began to spread the fever all along the line of travel, among the stock raised in that section of the country, till I struck the line of Virginia, which is a distance of about 250 miles—then it ceased and all went on well. I suppose the reason for its stopping was, that my cattle had been out of the low country long enough to become acclimated. Hence, I think the disease is originated from a change of climate, either from a colder to a warmer climate, or taking them from a warm climate to a more cool and healthy one. How is it that they carry the disease with them and give to others without injury to themselves, is a mystery I am not able to solve, and will leave that to be discussed by the Bureau of Investigation.

For Churches.

Every congregation which can afford even a very moderate expense, say one hundred dollars or more, can now secure a good organ. Until recently, such instruments have not been obtainable. Large pipe organs are too costly, and occupy too much space for any but a few of the wealthiest congregations worshipping in the largest churches. The melodeon lacks power and volume of tone, and harmoniums and small reed organs generally have been so unsatisfactory in quality of tone as to be undesirable.

In the Cabinet Organ these insufficiencies and defects are remedied. Its great volume and true organ tones, with its admirable capacity for expression, better adapt it to sacred music than any other instrument, excepting only the large pipe organ. Observe what Rev. Dr. PRIME, the well-known editor of the New York Observer, says of it in this respect. He styles it "a glorious instrument for the temple service," and tells why it is so. Dr. LOWELL MASON, than whom no one has had more experience in church music, writes:

"I regard Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs as likely to be of important service to the cause of Church Music, inasmuch as they are really very effective and beautiful accompanying instruments for sacred song; while the low prices at which they are afforded render them very generally available. After a year's experience in the use of one of them in Divine service, I can recommend these instruments with confidence for Sabbath-schools, Vestries and smaller Churches."

As in churches volume or power of tone is so important a requisite, it is better to obtain at least a double-reed Cabinet Organ for this use. An instrument with four octaves' compass is sufficient for the accompaniment of church music generally, but one having five octaves is better, enabling the performer to double the bass, as it is termed, and so considerably increase the power. The larger instruments, with three, four, and six sets of reeds, have proportionately greater volume, with very much increased power.

A single-reed Cabinet Organ has considerably more power than any single-reed melodeon. A double-reed Cabinet Organ has at least three or four times as much power as such a melodeon. The largest-sized Cabinet Organ has not less than ten times the volume of tone of the melodeon. This will give some indication of the capacity of the instruments, and afford a guide to purchasers.

Yet it must not be supposed that the largest Cabinet Organ equals, or nearly equals, in volume of tone, a large pipe organ, which costs ten or twenty times as much.

It is safe to say that no pipe organ can be built for less than double the cost of a Cabinet Organ, which will equal the latter in power and quality of tone, and variety of effect. The Cabinet Organ has the additional advantages of keeping in tune vastly better, and of less liability to get out of order, in any respect, besides that of occupying less room.

The Cabinet Organ is, therefore, not offered as a sufficient substitute for large pipe organs, costing three to fifty thousand dollars each; but it is offered as a very great improvement, not only upon melodeons, harmoniums, and all other reed organs, but also upon small pipe organs; as quite sufficient for churches and halls of moderate size, and in all respects better, as well as lower-priced, than small, cheap pipe organs. It is within the reach of almost every congregation, because almost every one will be able, by proper exertion, to raise at least enough to buy one of the smaller instruments: it will add very greatly to the attraction and usefulness of the music; will draw people to the church, and help to do them good while there; it occupies so little space that a place can easily be found for it; it is durable, and will keep in good tune; it can easily be obtained, for every one is boxed for shipping (without charge), and can be easily sent anywhere by ordinary freight routes.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

The Clearfield Journal says: "The work on the Clearfield railroad is being pushed forward as fast as the state of the weather will permit. We understand that the contractors are now engaged in erecting shanties at Clearfield creek, two miles east of this place, preparatory to commencing work on the bridge that is to span that stream."

The Bedford Inquirer has the following relative to the Broad Top Railroad: The controllers of this road have, within the last six months, improved it very much. All the old trestle has been superceded by new and splendid materials, while many other improvements have been made. The Broad Top road is one of the safest in the State. It has a less number of accidents recorded than any other line of the same length reported, while the care and attention of its officers to the comforts of the traveling public speak in the most favorable terms. We do not think that any one will hesitate to pronounce the most favorable opinion of the substantial condition of the road who will take the pains to inquire or to investigate.

The Paris Exposition and American Pianos.

The following appeared in La Presse Musicale, an influential musical Journal in Paris:

The Steinway Pianofortes furnish us with a specimen of American industry and manufacture, which leaves no room for improvement. We do not hesitate to declare, after hearing these pianofortes, that they are real wonders of art and industry.

We have just heard the Grand Pianos, and our surprise, we must confess, was great. We always thought that a pianoforte of this kind, possessing such power and such majestic fulness of tone, could not be made subservient to facility or modulation, and variety of accents. Then again we were of opinion that such powerful pianos could not but have a hard touch. Nothing of the kind.

But a still greater surprise has been in store for us. We have been compelled to admiration by a Square Piano, one of those instruments which have been scarcely in use in Paris for the last twenty years, but which are preferred in America; we are even told that ninety-five out of one hundred pianos sold are of this shape.

If we had at first doubted that with such a piano one could create a sensation in Paris, our opinion soon underwent a complete change, after having heard the instrument. We can now easily understand the preference given by the Americans to these pianofortes, for in Europe we can hardly realize what these Square Pianos are, as manufactured by Messrs. Steinway & Sons.

Suffice it to say that the house of Steinway & Sons, in New York, has justly occupied for the last ten years the highest rank in its speciality, and if it has the privilege of being at the head of the manufacture of pianos in that country, it is because it has understood how to give an impulse to this manufacture, and to bring the latter to the highest degree of perfection.

CITY MATTERS.

BURGLARY IN THE FIFTH WARD.—The dwelling of Mr. J. Willis, on Walnut street, in the Fifth ward, was burglariously entered by two men, shortly before three o'clock yesterday morning, and robbed of three shirts, a coat and the key of Mr. Willis's shirt store, on the corner of Penn and Canal streets. The supposed object of their visit was to obtain the key, enter the store and make a good haul. The robbery was discovered almost immediately, and prompt efforts made to trace the thieves. They were discovered about four o'clock seated under the Railroad Bridge over the Allegheny river, and as soon as they saw the officers, they sprang into a skiff which they had in waiting, and pulled down the river.

THE AMATEUR CONCERT.—The concert of amateurs last Thursday night was by far the best one Mr. Tetedoux has ever directed in this city. In all the performers, from the first to the last, could be detected by a cultivated ear the same severe method and genuine school of singing; we could hardly realize that we were at a concert of pupils, so pure was the style, so irreproachable the vocalization of the ladies and gentlemen who sang on that evening. We shall, however, venture two critical observations: First, Anxious as Mr. Tetedoux is to elevate the standard of musical taste, and without sacrificing his artistic convictions, yield a little more than he does to public desire, often expressed to him, and select pieces of less exclusively classical character? Second, does he believe it right altogether to refuse to a pleased audience the benefit of an encore?

Obituary.

In the COMMERCIAL this morning will be found recorded the departure from this world of four old and respected citizens, all of whom had lived beyond the allotted three score years and ten. Mrs. B. A. Negley, one of our most venerable and highly beloved matrons died yesterday morning at the residence of her son-in-law, Hon. Thomas Mellon, in the eighty-sixth year of her age. Although somewhat infirm from weight of years, Mrs. Negley all through the evening of her life spent most of her time in performing acts of benevolence. One of her last public acts was the donation to the Presbyterian Church of East Liberty, of a large bell.

Stephen Woods, Sr., father of Robert and Stephen Woods, Jr., prominent members of the Pittsburgh Bar, died at the residence of his eldest son in Union township yesterday, in the eighty-second year of his age. Mr. Woods was one of our oldest residents, and was known to a majority of our citizens, although of late years he has lived a retired country life.

Yesterday morning, at six o'clock, Mr. George Beale died at the residence of his son-in-law, N. G. Murphy, No. 31 Fifth street, in the seventy-eighth year of his age. There are few men in this community who did not know and esteem George Beale, who, in his time, was the prince of caterers, his restaurant being the resort of all epicures. He was of a genial disposition, kind and courteous, and his exit from the stage of life will be regretted by very many friends.

Mr. James Flack, an old resident, died yesterday noon, at his residence, No. 45 Logan street, in the eighty-second year of his age.

THE COURTS.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS—Before Judge Stowe.

John Bruce vs. Felix Rogers, Robert Campbell and John Robinson, partners as Rogers & Co. Action to recover $4,000 on a breach of contract for furnishing limestone to be used for building purposes or burning into lime. The plaintiff resides in Westmoreland county, on the line of the Connellsville Railroad. The case is still on trial.

On motion of W. G. Hawkins, Esq., Robert E. Stewart was admitted to practice as an attorney at the bar of this Court.

DISTRICT COURT.—Before Judge Williams.

The case of Joseph Fleming vs. H. Darlington & Co., previously reported, occupied the entire session of the Court yesterday, and had not been concluded at adjournment.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—Before Judge McCandless.

The case of the United States vs. Charles Williams, alias Wooster, alias Stevens, alias Clemens, indicted for robbing the postoffice at Lock Haven, on the night of the 26th of April last, was resumed yesterday morning. After the robbery the tracks of the thief were plainly discerned and when Williams was arrested, his boots were placed in the tracks, and found to correspond very accurately. The facts connected with the robbery were detailed by the witnesses for the prosecution, and when the circumstance of the boot marks was alluded to, it was found that the prisoner had not the boots on which he wore on Thursday, but had replaced them with a pair of gaiters. Upon inquiry being instituted it was ascertained that he had traded his boots yesterday morning to a fellow-prisoner in the jail for the gaiters. McCarthy was brought from jail on a writ of habeas corpus, and the prisoner's boots were found on his feet. No witnesses were called on the part of the defense. The jury retired about three o'clock and after a short absence returned a verdict of guilty. Judge McCandless then sentenced the prisoner to undergo an imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of ten years.

The Grand Jury returned a true bill against Robert Black, for having in his possession and attempting to pass counterfeit Treasury notes.

Edwin L. Osborne, Esq., was on motion of Gen. F. H. Collier, duly qualified and admitted to practice in this court.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

[Before Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny.]

ARRESTED AND DISCHARGED.

An information was made some time since at Zanesville, Ohio, against a man named William Frederick, who was charged with affiliation. Learning that an information had been made against him, Frederick left Zanesville and came to Allegheny City to avoid arrest. He was followed by Elizabeth Stinehaur, the person who made the information against him in Ohio, and who made a second information against him before Mayor Morrison. He was arrested yesterday morning by the police, but it being shown that the offense was committed in Ohio, the Mayor discharged him, being unable to hold him without a requisition from the Governor of that State.

DRIVING ON THE PAVEMENT.

A man named Brown Dawson was arrested on Federal street, Allegheny, on Thursday night, by night watchman Frank Campbell, for violating the city ordinance, in driving his horse on the pavement. He was discharged yesterday on paying a nominal fine.

QUESTIONABLE AMUSEMENT.

Chief of Police Long made an information yesterday against a number of young men named Martin Feckler, Wm. Shanky, Christian Shorb, Daniel Matthews, J. Short, and others, names unknown, for malicious mischief. It appears that the defendants have been in the habit of congregating in an old vacated house, near the corner of East lane and River avenue, in the Fourth ward, Allegheny, and annoying persons passing by, by throwing large lumps of cotton soaked in oil or grease at them, and often destroying their clothes. This rather questionable amusement has been practiced for some time past, and it became so intolerable at length that the police determined to stop it. A raid was made on them yesterday by the police, and four or five of the offenders captured. They were held to bail for a hearing.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Morgan S. Morrison lodged complaint against a young man named Charles McDonald for assault and battery. The deponent alleges that McDonald attacked him on Thurday morning, and slapped him in the face and kicked him. The accused was arrested by officer Joseph Campbell, but the case was amicably settled, by the defendant paying the costs.

MAINTAINING A NUISANCE.

Wm. Deeney was arrested on a charge of maintaining a nuisance, on oath of J. M. Muckle. Deeney was charged with having repeatedly thrown garbage on a vacant lot owned by the prosecutor, in the Allegheny Diamond, after having been told not to do so. He was held for a hearing.

FIGHT IN THE THIRD WARD.

Patrick Campbell, a Celtic gentleman, resides in the Third ward, Allegheny, and has a daughter married to a negro named Archibald Lawson, a night soiler. Patrick and his son-in-law have not been on good terms for some time past, and frequently engage in quarrels. On Thursday night a quarrel arose between them, which resulted in Archibald being badly beaten. Campbell was arrested, but Lawson declining to make information for assault and battery against him, he was committed to jail for a short term for disorderly conduct.

[Before Alderman Humbert.]

A POLICEMAN IN TROUBLE.

A young man named A. C. Henderson, hailing from Lancaster, Pa., instituted suit yesterday for assault and battery against Matthew Keep, an independent policeman. Henderson alleges that while passing down Second street, at the corner of Ferry, on Thursday evening, he was attacked by Keep, who knocked him down. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing. He does not deny the accusation, but alleges that Henderson insulted his (Keep's) wife, in whose company he was at the time.

[Before Alderman Taylor.]

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

Mr. John Bradley appeared and made an information against four boys named James Sprout, John Sproul, Alexander Miller and J. Minne, for malicious mischief, alleging that they maliciously broke the windows of the Etna Stove Works, in the Fifth ward. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

[Before Alderman Lynch.]

ATTEMPTED OUTRAGE.

Jennie Ferguson appeared and lodged complaint yesterday against S. P. Lewey, charging him with committing an indecent assault upon her. The parties reside on Wylie street. The accused was arrested and held to bail for a hearing.

THE SOUTHERN FAMINE.

Relief Meeting at the Board of Trade Rooms--Address of Bishop Kerfoot to the Public--Resolutions, Speeches, &c.

In accordance with a call issued by Rev. Bishop Kerfoot, at the instance of the Philadelphia Relief Association, a meeting was held yesterday morning at eleven o'clock at the Board of Trade Rooms, Wood street, for the purpose of taking initiatory steps towards collecting funds and supplies for the destitute in the South. Contrary to expectation the attendance was meagre, barely a dozen persons being present. An organization was effected by calling upon Bishop Kerfoot to preside, and appointing the representatives of the press Secretaries.

After the object of the meeting had been stated by the Chairman, Wm. W. Ward, Esq., alluded to the efforts which have already been made in this community towards forwarding supplies to the destitute poor in the Southern States, and thought it inexpedient to organize another Association, as it might embarrass those already in operation.

Felix R. Brunot, Esq., thought that the apparent apathy which seem to pervade our citizens could be explained by the fact that for months previous to the call for a public meeting, measures for the relief of Southern poor had been taken by the churches, and that persons had contributed through them according to their ability. He knew the people felt an interest in the matter. Through the efforts of the Post much had been done, and Rev. Joseph Travelli, agent of the Freedmen's Aid Society, had also distributed a considerable sum of money in reliefs. He thought the better plan to be to adopt resolutions sympathizing heartily with the agents operating, and recommending our citizens to send their contributions through the one they might select.

R. H. Kerr, Esq., remarked that he had been holding meetings in some of the townships, and thought much good might be effected in the way of securing contributions if the clergy and press would give their influence. If some persons were appointed to take charge of meetings in the boroughs and townships, large contributions of produce could be obtained.

Mr. Brunot offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this meeting called in response to the action of the Philadelphia Southern Relief Fund Association, fully sympathizes in the objects aimed at, and in behalf of ourselves and our fellow-citizens of Pittsburgh, promises to contribute, as we have been doing, of our means through the existing agencies for the relief of the suffering.

Resolved, That in view of the fact that for months past this work has been quietly progressing, through collections in the churches and individual effort, and that our sympathies and business relations more closely connect us with the southwest where chiefly our funds have hitherto been sent, we deem it inexpedient to organize a branch of the Philadelphia Society.

Resolved, That we earnestly commend this cause as calling for renewed liberality on the part of the people of Western Pennsylvania, and, that more may be accomplished, that the Chairman of this meeting is requested to appoint collecting committees in the wards of the cities and boroughs, and a Central Executive Committee of five persons, whose duty it shall be to receive and distribute the funds and supplies contributed, and take such other measures as they may deem best to advance the objects of their appointment.

Resolved, That the Chairman of this meeting be requested to issue an address to the citizens of Western Pennsylvania in behalf of this object.

Major Joseph M. Knap proposed as an amendment that an Executive Committee of five be appointed by the chair, and that our citizens be urged to send in their contributions to James P. Barr, Esq., or to Rev. J. S. Travelli, agent of the Freedmen's Aid Society.

Rev. S. J. Wilson, D. D., suggested that it might be better to form another channel through which contributions could be received. Many persons might object to the existing agencies, and he thought it would be proper to afford them an opportunity to give. The speaker alluded to the sufferings and distress in the South, and bid God speed to those engaged in efforts for their relief.

Rev. Mr. Travelli stated that he had received nearly $2,000 for the relief of the poor of the South, all of which had been contributed without solicitation on his part. In some localities the people were greatly in need of assistance, but he had been led to believe from statements made by gentlemen who had traveled through portions of Tennessee and Alabama that the accounts of the sufferings in those States had been exaggerated.

Extracts from letters from various localities in the South, in which the writers depicted great sufferings among the poorer classes, were read by the chairman.

Some further discussion ensued after which the resolutions as amended, were adopted.

The Chairman appointed the following Executive Committee, as provided for in the resolutions: F. R. Brunot, Esq., Chairman; Rev. S. J. Wilson, D. D., Major Joseph M. Knap; W. W. Ward, Esq., Secretary; Wm. G. Johnston, Esq., Treasurer.

On motion of R. H. Kerr, Esq., the meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the committee.

The following is the address of the Rev. Bishop Kerfoot, issued in accordance with the request of the resolutions adopted by the meeting:

BOARD OF TRADE ROOMS, PITTSBURGH, May 10, 1867.

To the Citizens of Western Pennsylvania:

A meeting was called here to-day to co-operate in such a way as might be deemed best with the benevolent efforts now making in other parts of our State to relieve destitution in the South. There can be no doubt there is such destitution of food, even to the extent of starvation in some cases, and of great suffering in thousands, tens of thousands of instances. The want to be supplied is food. The want is urgent and must be met, if at all, at once. No men or women need at argument to convince them that to send food to the hungry, to those who must suffer, perhaps die, if left unaided, is binding on all, on grounds of common humanity as well as of religious responsibility. Children and women, as well as men, are hungry. Mothers have not food for their homes. Widows and orphans cry to God and to us for help. The cry comes from our near neighbors, and aid can reach and relieve them in a few hours. Will not all who have not aided in this work, or who can add anything more send in their gifts of money, to Wm. G. Johnston, Esq., 57 Wood street, or to any of the Central Committee; and gifts of corn, wheat, or food that can be safely forwarded, to Rev. J. S. Travelli, or to Lloyd & Black's Warehouse, corner Market and Water streets, or to the Pittsburgh Grain Elevator.

By order of the meeting,

JOHN B. KERFOOT, Chairman.

SATURDAY, MAY 11, 1867.

The positive assertion that Chief Justice Chase would go to Richmond and try Davis, is denied, and to it is added the remark that the Chief Justice considers Judge Underwood equal to the emergency. This latter observation throws a grave doubt over the denial.

Jefferson Davis in Libby Prison! How suggestive the announcement by telegraph that this is to become true. But Libby of to-day is not the one of those days of torture, and every kind of dreadful suffering, borne by Union soldiers. Could the arch traitor be consigned for one single month to the condition in which hundreds and thousands through him suffered, we presume few would object to his release, to become the outcast he is certain to become among his countrymen. Even though the Libby of to-day be a parlor, there is something in the fact of Jefferson Davis becoming the tenant of it by compulsion that savors strongly of justice. Though no physical suffering result therefrom, such an imprisonment will be not wholly unattended by actual suffering—for even he can yet feel how fearful are the changes which time has wrought.

LABOR A COMMODOTY.

If the object were good in itself and beneficial to men, we should not object to doing away with work altogether, and should be ready to sign any number of petitions to that effect. This would dissipate all the illusions and sink all the capital of the men who spout on the eight-hour topic, and would also dispose of the quarrel between labor and capital, as there would be nothing left of either, to quarrel or to quarrel about.

But there are several points raised by our civilization against the discontinuance of labor. History and observation prove that where society has at any time got itself into the happy condition of doing without work, the blessing has always set heavily on the women. The gallantry that characterizes high civilization will not accept exemption from labor on that condition. Nor does it accord with an elevated tone of social life, to work only enough to keep soul and body together—they may in some conditions of society. Acquisitiveness has had too rank a growth for that in this country. Besides high prices and a hard climate make the keeping of soul and body together no easy task, as things are now.

It is clear we cannot do without labor in our circumstances. And the wisest thing we can do is to understand it. Labor is not a penalty to be endured. People are not working out a sentence imposed by others. Labor is a commodity, a thing to be bought and sold, as much as flour or iron or cloth is. And it is to the man who has it at his own disposal, as truly capital, as money or bank stock. It goes into the market, like other commodities, in different conditions and in different quantities. One man brings into the market his labor in the rough, just as it grew, bone and muscle. Another has trained his to the use of instruments and tools; another has spent years of time and large sums of money in polishing up his labor into availability for purposes of skill, contrivance and thought. Each goes into the great world mart with his commodity. And in that mart he meets with men whose capital is money, more or less, and traffic and exchange are effected, for the benefit of both classes, and on principles of equality. The quality and quantity and kind of labor are just as proper subjects of consideration in the labor trade, as the same things are in the cloth trade or the flour trade. And all the talk and all the legislation possible cannot make it different. It will probably be one of the good results of the current discussions to make this more plain to everybody's perception.

REFORM, HERE AND THERE.

England is all astir with excitement, in favor of reform. Able men are discussing it, immense meetings are held, politicians are risking their positions and influence on the enterprise, the throne itself is trembling—or is supposed to be so, as scores of times before, though it has never quite toppled over. All this, for the purpose of securing to some persons the privilege of voting. The United States has also its reform project, of a similar kind, going on, with discussions, big meetings, party arrangements, speeches, newspapers and all political enginery. This is, to secure to the black people lately slaves, the privilege of voting. Voting seems to be the summum bonum and chief end of life, in both cases.

Of course we are gratified—every good citizen must be so—to see a disposition prevailing to extend to all people the civil rights and privileges that belong to them. But as voting has an aspect towards the public interest, as well as toward private and individual rights, some solicitude should be felt about the qualifications of voters. On this depends great consequences connected with the public interests. Blind partisanship needs no qualifications, and, therefore, those who have only party ascendency as their end, are indifferent about the intelligence and moral fitness of voters. If they hold a ballot between thumb and finger, and hand it in at the polls, it is enough. The suffrage, in the eye of the citizen who regards the public good, demands more than this—some understanding of the nature of the Government; some power of discriminating between right and wrong in politics.

In England and in this country classes are aspiring to the right of suffrage which have not heretofore enjoyed it. The claim meets with opposition in both cases, and in both has a powerful support. And it would not be strange if in both—we think we see it clearly—there should be a predominance of the partisan over the patriotic motive, in much that is said on both sides of the question. The right of suffrage being granted, the contest for the control of the new political element naturally ensues. This is the phase now presenting itself in the Southern States, where those who opposed the grant are quite as keen for taking advantage of it as those who favored it.

THE IMPULSE OF THE MOMENT.

This expression is so frequently used to palliate and excuse crimes, even of a serious character, that a caveat against such use cannot be justly regarded as out of place in the columns of a secular journal. The impulse of the moment, which occasions some of the most shocking crimes and some of the most deplorable ruin of character and life, surely cannot be justly placed in extenuation of the wrong and mischief. The larger portion of the offenses against the peace and order of society are such as spring from this cause. Shooting and stabbing affairs, as they are termed in the local columns of papers, assault and battery, libidinous assaults, are always attributable to the sudden outbursts of ungoverned passions. So also is character sacrificed by acts of peculation and theft, committed under the impulse of the moment, when opportunity was presented with promise of escaping detection. And so, too, in a moment, good fame, place, employment, domestic peace and self-respect have been thrown away, for the intoxicating cup, under the impulse of the moment.

The reason and conscience of man are given to control passions and to resist their blind impulse. A man who cannot see a watch within his reach, without feeling an impulse to appropriate it, or have an opportunity of cheating without embracing it, is a dangerous character in society. It will not do to plead the excitement of the moment as an excuse. It is his uncontrolled depravity that makes him dangerous, and requires the infliction of penalties for the crimes to which it leads him. We may pity those who are so enslaved to passion and appetite, that reason and conscience and law have no power to restrain them from doing wrong to others and themselves, but to make the impulse of the moment a justification or excuse, is to excuse one fault by another and even a greater one.

SOLDIERS' HOME.

As a project has been started for raising funds for the erection of a Soldiers' Home, we deem it but proper to say to our readers that Pennsylvania has already two excellent institutions of this kind, and that neither of them is filled with inmates. One of these is in Philadelphia, and the other in Pittsburgh.

The proposed new one is to be established at Gettysburg—not a suitable place for such an institution—and the funds are to be raised by lottery—a questionable method for charitable purposes. Besides, a third institution is not at all needed, since the existing ones are not filled, and it should be borne in mind that the entire purpose of them will be accomplished in a few years, and their use be constantly diminishing.

The Pittsburgh Sanitary Soldiers' Home has in it seventy-five disabled soldiers, and could comfortably accommodate twice as many more. Its buildings and grounds are extensive and in fine order. The houses being heated with steam and furnished with baths, diet-kitchen, laundry, and all other conveniences which the experience of the war proved to be desirable. The grounds, twenty-four acres, are handsomely laid out, and supplied with trees, shrubbery and flowers. Many of our readers are aware that this Home is what was formerly the Western Pennsylvania Hospital, in the Ninth ward, overlooking the city. The institution has an income, from invested funds, of several thousand dollars per year, and the Legislature, should it be necessary for the support and comfort of our brave soldiers disabled and infirm, will supplement this with whatever may be needed.

The fact that this most attractive place is not fully occupied shows two things; first, the noble character of our soldiers, who are not disposed, unless absolutely necessary, to avail themselves of public help; and secondly, it proves that an additional Home is not needed in our good Commonwealth.

The New York Times says it is "pained to observe that the Rural Press, the Western Press, the Southern Press, and the Boston Press are paying so little attention to those civilized courtesies which now habitually characterize the decenter portion of the Metropolitan Press." If the Times will specify whom it means by "the decenter portion of the Metropolitan press," we presume the outside barbarians, for which so much feeling is manifested, will lose no time in making them the objects of their study and imitation. But as the Metropolitan Press in general has an established reputation for that which the Times so much deprecates in its rural brethren, and seeing the decency of which it speaks is so rare as not to be seen with the naked eye, the barbarians are quite in the dark. If the Times is perpetrating a "sarkasm," then the thing is easily understood. We suspect this is what it is at.

The meeting of great railroad managers—rather managers of great railroads—in New York, is an assemblage of gentlemen who appear to take great delight in annually entering into an arrangement to be broken in the most dexterous manner. Probably at no time in our railway history have there been so great and varied efforts put forth for routes and connections and for obtaining advantages in various ways as at the present. Some of these efforts, the most strenuous, we might say, have in view the Pacific road and its ramifications. Whatever may appear on the surface, the public may depend upon it—and so it will appear before long—great games are on foot, and if the National Treasury is not made to bleed, it will be strange indeed. Time will disclose what they are.

The New Orleans Picayune says: "We believe the highest vote polled at any election in this city previous to the war amounted to between 11,000 and 13,000. The official report from headquarters fixes the number of those who had registered, up to the 30th ult., at whites, 2,012; colored, 8,687. At this ratio, it is fair to presume that before the registration is closed, the colored vote will greatly exceed the highest white ever polled. Of course, this white vote, under the most liberal construction as to the qualification of voters, must, necessarily, be greatly diminished, not to say anything about the effect of the arbitrary restrictions enforced by the present registrars in the performance of their duty.

Lucky Colorado, for Governor Cummings has resigned the Governorship of the Territory to accept the Collectorship of the Fourth Pennsylvania District, which Senator Cameron, against the protest of all the Republicans, procured for him at the hands of Mr. Johnson; and whose nomination, by some hocus-pocus or other, the Senate confirmed. When the news gets to Colorado great will be the rejoicing. The President at once appointed Mr. Hunt (Democrat,) who contests Mr. Chillicott's (Republican) seat as dellegate from that Territory. Mr. Chillicott is the sitting member, and by this move Mr. Hunt virtually abandons the contest, which he knew was hopeless.

The Chicago Journal, of Thursday evening, says the eight hour excitement has almost wholly subsided, nine-tenths of the strikers have gone to work as before. Theoretically, says the Journal, the eight hour system is in force, but practically it is not, for in a large majority of cases men are working ten hours, as heretofore—many who had the privilege of choosing between the two systems having decided that for the present, at least, it is better for them to work ten hours a day and receive the same wages as formerly than to knock off two hours for each day's work and receive less pay. The strike has proved an expensive failure and is not likely to be undertaken again.

A Select company, calling themselves the American Anti-Slavery Society, are making a great ado at their annual meeting in New York, from which one would be led to suppose that some millions of human beings in this land were held in bondage, and that there was imminent danger of the rest becoming enslaved. The Anti-Slavery Society has done its work. If the Society chooses to continue in existence let it recognize the result of recent history, and manifest some common sense in adapting its labor and talk to the exact state of the times.

A new volcano has appeared in the South Seas, near one of the Navigator's Islands. It is in the sea, and was preceded by a violent earthquake shock, on September 5th, 1866. After this dense smoke arose, and then lava, and in the middle of November the smoke and lava were still being thrown up in great quantities. The disturbance of the sea and the stifling character of the smoke prevented an examination of the place to see whether the bank had been thrown up.

Some of the New York papers, in reporting the doings of the Universal Peace Society, give to it the title of "radical." Is it meant by this that the members are so much devoted to the idea that they are willing to fight for it?

CONSUMPTION CURABLE.

Its icy hand falls alike upon youthful innocence and hoary-headed age. Some of the prominent symptoms are Cough, Expectorant, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Lungs and Chest, darting Pains in the Side and Back, Emaciation, and a general negative condition of the whole system.

The Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON'S Prepared Prescription for the cure of CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all THROAT and LUNG AFFECTIONS, has now been in use over ten years with the most marked success.

The Remedy, prepared under Mr. Wilson's personal supervision, also a pamphlet containing the original Prescription, with full and explicit directions for preparation and use, together with a short history of his case, may be obtained of the following reliable Druggist,

JOSEPH FLEMING,
cor. Market street and the Diamond, Pittsburgh.

Each package will bear his written signature across the end of the box. For pamphlet containing the original prescription, the Prepared Remedy, or more full particulars, address or call on the above agent, or

Increase				$202,237,736

The above exhibit is no doubt very imperfect, and far short of the actual increase of the public debt in the several States in the time named. There are debts of boroughs, of towns and of counties that have, no doubt, not been taken into the above account. Yet the amount gives the very large increase of $210,536,892, and of this amount in six years but $8,299,156 has been reduced, and that reduction it contined to five of the richest States in the Union. This added to the National debt of over two thousand five hundred millions, and both items considered in connection with the fact of the slow progress made in the reduction of either, presents food for serious contemplation. As a collateral subject in this connection, worthy a passing thought, may be mentioned the heavy additional claims on the Treasury on account of bounties, the inauguration of what promises to be a rather formidable Indian war, and evidence in the reduced revenues from income that taxation has passed the maximum point. There is nothing truer in political economy than that there is a limit beyond which taxation cannot be carried. Facts and figures indicate that that point has been reached in the United States. The future would be more cheerful under our load of of debt, State and National, if prices of almost all the necessaries of life were not increased from 50 to 100 per cent., and, in a great degree, through the agency of a vitiated currency. Indeed, the prices of some of the substantials of life flour, rice, molasses, etc., have increased threefold. Under such burdens it is impossible that domestic labor can profitably compete with other nations for the market of the world.

The Boston Fruit Preserving Company in their recent report say that fish can be left in the fruit house, in a frozen condition, for an indefinite period of time. It was stated at the meeting that fish had been frozen solid in a few minutes, in one of the rooms, and that certain parties were desirous of putting twenty thousand pounds of salmon into the house, in July next, when salmon are cheap, and that they purpose to sell them next season, from time to time as the market shall demand. There may be a suggestion in this by which others, interested in similar enterprises, may profit.

Reports from the West and Northwest are to the effect that on the night of the 7th the frost was so severe as to cause, in some localities, considerable damage to fruit. In rare cases the damage was very serious and the buds killed; but we find nothing in our reports to create any apprehension as to a very abundant crop.

Further Home Testimony.
MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS,
Read the following indubitable proof of the great virtue of MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS. Captain James Gallegher is personally known to hundreds of Pittsburgh citizens:
PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 7, 1867.
MESSRS. FAHNESTOCK & HOLTON:
Gentlemen—I regard Dr. Mishler as a benefactor of his race. Great men have been raised up from time to time in different ages to bless the world with their skilled genius. How incalculable is the good which many men have almost unconsciously wrought in the world. Dr. Mishler is a hero of this class. His Herb Bitters were accidentally brought to my notice and by their use I have been restored to perfect health. For years I was a victim to the Dyspepsia in its worst form, and was compelled to retire from my business. My health failed so rapidly that I was given over by my physicians. One recommended me to take a tour to California. I did so, but derived no benefit. I had tried, as I thought, every dyspepsia medicine of reputation, and without success. My health still failed, and I became convinced that my days on earth would soon terminate. But Dr. Mishler's Herb Bitters were brought to my notice. I had no faith in them nor anything else. Still, to satisfy friends, I consented to try them. I very shortly began to feel far more improved in health and spirits than I had in years before. I continued to use them regularly my hope revived, and I gradually recovered. I am to-day as well, strong and hale as I was fifteen years ago, and as I have used no other medicine, I attribute my restoration to Mishler's Herb Bitters. I furnish you with this testimony voluntarily, for I deem it due to you that my fellow citizens should know the great virtue of Mishler's Herb Bitters. I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

MT. VERNON GROVE.
A MAGNIFICENT COUNTRY SEAT, situated on the Ohio river, four miles from the city, and a few rods from Neville Station, on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, in a pleasant neighborhood, surrounded by beautiful country houses, near to New Brighton Turnpike, and within a short distance of Postoffice, Store, School House and handsome Church.
This very desirable Grove contains TWENTY-SEVEN ACRES, (27) with a front of sixteen hundred feet on the Ohio river, and Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, and the handsome forest trees being a proper distance from each other, and having a protection from the cold northwestern winds in winter by the adjoining property, makes it both a pleasant retreat in summer, and a warm location for a home in winter. The ground is elevated sufficiently to prevent annoyance from the railroad, and commands a grand view of the Ohio river, and surrounding country from Manchester to the foot of Neville Island. It is watered by several never-failing springs of good water, and the forest trees are chiefly fine large oaks, maple, with a few chestnut and hickory.
Those desiring a rare and beautiful location for a country home, would do well to visit Mount Vernon Grove. Belonging to this property is a valuable Eddy and close by the railroad there is sufficient stone for any building purposes. It is a splendid site for a shipping yard for coal, or for manufacturing purposes. For further particulars, inquire of

VEGETABLE AMBROSIA

IS THE MIRACLE OF THE AGE.

Gray headed people have their locks restored by it to the dark, lustrous, silken tresses of youth, and are happy!

Young people with light, faded or red hair, have these unfashionable colors changed to a beautiful auburn, and rejoice!

People whose heads are covered with dandruff and humors, use it, and have clean coats and clear and healthy scalps! Bald headed veterans have their remaining locks tightened, and the bare spots covered with a luxuriant growth of hair, and dance for joy! Young gentlemen use it because it is richly perfumed! Young ladies use it because it keeps their hair in place! Everybody must and will use it, because it is the cleanest and best article in the market!

For sale by Druggists generally. Price $1 00 per bottle. E. M. TUBBS & Co., Proprietors, Peterborough, N. H.

CITY MATTERS.

POCKET PICKED.—A lady was relieved of her pocket book containing about five dollars, while attending the Allegheny market yesterday morning.

PROGRESSING.—The work of constructing the Allegheny city wharf, between Hand street and the Railroad bridge, is progressing very rapidly.

FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of the Firemen's Association will be held at their hall, in City Building, on Monday evening next, at half-past seven o'clock.

MARKET HOUSE AT NEW CASTLE.—A new Market House is about being erected in New Castle, and the contract for the building has been awarded to Mr. James Mayne, of that place, for the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars.

TAKEN OVER.—Charles Williams, sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for robbing the Postoffice at Lock Haven, was taken to his new quarters yesterday afternoon, by Deputy U. S. Marshal Shore.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of the Allegheny County Teachers' Association will be held this morning at ten o'clock, in Excelsior Institute Hall, corner of Fourth and Liberty streets. The exercises will be of a very interesting character.

JUMPING CHALLENGE.—Robert Way, of this city, challenges any man in America to a jumping match—to one single jump, three jumps, or ten jumps—for a purse of one thousand dollars, the match to come off in Pittsburgh on the 23d inst., if the other party is willing.

THE LUMBER TRADE.—The number of lumber rafts arriving here and passing the city is increasing almost daily. The Allegheny City side of the river is constantly lined with rafts, and a large number of persons are engaged in removing the lumber to the various yards in the city.

AN OLD FIRM IN A NEW PLACE.—The public will no doubt be pleased to learn that the Messrs. Daly's have opened a new establishment on Smithfield street, near the Custom House, where the manufacture of hose and under clothing will be carried on in all its branches. Their friends will be gratified to learn that they have resumed business, and will wish them the largest success. They are attentive and accommodating, and are certain to succeed, their prices being very reasonable.

THE VIGILANT ENGINE HOUSE.—Workmen are engaged in remodelling the Vigilant Engine House, on Third street. The cellar will be deepened, a new front erected, and a new stable built at the rear of the house. The improvements will be completed in about six weeks, and in the meantime the new steamer will be stored at Mr. West's carriage warehouse on Penn street, while the old one will be placed in the care of the Independence Fire Company, in the Ninth ward. The hose carriage and horses will remain in service.

MONONGAHELA VALLEY RAILROAD MEETING.—The general meeting of the friends of the Monongahela Valley Railroad project, residing on the line of the proposed road, will be held at Elizabeth on Thursday, May 30th, and not June 20th, as stated yesterday. The manuscript furnished us on Thursday announced the meeting for June 30th, but as that date this year will fall on Sunday, the nearest guess we could make was Thursday, June 20th. It will be seen that the Secretary furnished us with the wrong month. The meeting will be held May 30th.

MATTHEWS, THE ALLEGED BANK ROBBER.—Robert Matthews, charged with passing counterfeit money in Erie county, had a final hearing yesterday afternoon before United States Commissioner Sproul, which resulted in his discharge, the evidence being deemed insufficient to hold him for trial. Immediately upon his discharge he was taken into custody by officer James Brown, of the independent police force, on the warrant issued by Justice Smith, of Washington county, charging him with robbing the Farmers Deposit Bank, at Canonsburg, over a week since. Alderman Strain and officer Brown left last evening for Washington county, with Matthews in custody.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A man by the name of Henry Hyde, employed at the Steel Works of Messrs. Anderson, Cook & Co., on Ross street, met with a serious accident about two o'clock yesterday afternoon. It appears that he was attending to a train of guide rolls, and was directing a rod of steel through the rolls with a pair of long tongs. A nut holding the rolls in place gave way, and Hyde fell forward, falling upon his tongs, one handle of the tongs entering his throat, penetrating about two inches. He was immediately removed to his boarding house, Joseph McKee's, on First street, where he was attended by Dr. McMeal. The injury, although a painful and serious one, will probably not result fatally.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—A man named Halley attempted to commit suicide at the Monongahela House at an early hour yesterday morning. Mr. Halley is a member of an extensive manufacturing company at Decatur, Illinois. He has been in this city for some time past, and has been leading rather a dissipated life, which brought on a touch of delirium tremens. A watch was set over him at his room in the Monongahela House, and while the waiter in attendance was putting down the window in his room early yesterday morning, he drew from his pocket a pen-knife, and thrust the blade its entire length into the left side of his neck, and then drawing it forward, cutting a frightful gash, some two inches in length, and dangerously wounding him. Drs. McCook, Daly and Umbstaetter were summoned, and dressed the wound. His condition was considerably improved yesterday afternoon, and he is considered out of danger.

FRIGHTFUL FALL—PROBABLE FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday afternoon a probably fatal accident occurred to a man named Frank Malone, employed at well No. 3, Marine Oil Company's tract, on the Hiner Farm, near Oil City. It appears that Malone was on the top of the oil derrick engaged in drawing the sucker rods from the well, when suddenly the board upon which he was standing broke, precipitating him to the ground, a distance of forty-eight feet. His spine was dislocated by the fall, and both his legs so badly injured as to cause paralysis. He was picked up and carried to the house of Capt. John Wolfe, and Dr. Avery called in. Dr. W. R. Hamilton, of this city, was telegraphed to, and left for Oil City to attend to Malone's injuries. He returned on Thursday, and states that Malone cannot recover. Dr. John Dickson, of this city, was also telegraphed for, and left yesterday to attend the injured man. Mr. Malone formerly resided in Michigan.

Improvements in the Market House.

The Committee on Markets have commenced to make some improvements in the Diamond Market House, which will be appreciated by our citizens. The entire internal portion of the building will be painted or white washed, and a large force of workmen are engaged in pushing forward the work. It is also proposed to change the style of the benches used by the butchers from their present appearance, by placing them on cast iron feet, thus enabling those having charge of the building to wash it out thoroughly with hose. The committee have decided to expend a sufficient sum during the coming summer, to keep the Market House in a clean and healthy condition, and if they succeed in their undertaking they may rely upon receiving the thanks of the entire community.

G. A. R. District Meeting---The Soldiers' Monumental Association Endorsed.

A meeting of the several Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic in the District of Allegheny county was held at the headquarters, Apollo Building, Fourth street, on Thursday evening. General A. L. Pearson, District Commander, presided, and Capt. John G. MacConnell officiated as Secretary.

The following preamble and resolutions, offered by a comrade, were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, An association has been formed by the ladies of Allegheny county, having for its object the erection of a monument to the memory of those of our comrades who returned not; therefore,

Resolved, That in this patriotic undertaking, we recognize a renewed proof of that unselfish devotion to our country and its cause, which so distinguished the ladies of our city during the war, and contributed so largely to our success.

Resolved, That, heartily sympathizing with the object of this Association, we hereby tender assistance and pledge ourselves to use our best efforts for its success.

After transacting some miscellaneous business, the meeting adjourned.

HOME PROOF IN FAVOR OF MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS.—We rarely direct especial attention to advertisements. But we depart from this rule, to-day, for the reason that our columns contain the most indubitable proof that a certain medicine, extensively used in this community, is effecting wonderful cures. We refer to Mishler's celebrated Herb Bitters. In another column our readers will find a certificate from Capt. James Gallagher, long and favorably known as a steamboat captain on our immediate waters, as well as on the Ohio as far as St. Louis. For upwards of twenty years he has followed this business as our merchants well know. During thirteen years of this time Captain Gallagher has been a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia. Physicians tried in vain to cure him. The various patent medicines advertised under different names for healing Dyspeptics afforded no relief. His case was finally pronounced hopeless and the Captain began to seriously anticipate an early release from his sufferings. Unexpectedly, a friend suggested Mishler's Herb Bitters as a sure and certain cure for Dyspepsia. It was reluctantly tried, but never afterwards abandoned until the Captain was restored to perfect health. His certificate will be found in another column. These Bitters are sold by all respectable druggists. Branch house No. 26 Market street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Fahnestock & Holton, General Western Agents.

Facts About Firearms.

CHEAP RIFLES, SHOT GUNS, REVOLVERS.—Our readers, no doubt, are aware of the great demand for firearms at this particular season of the year, and one might suppose that the demand would tend to sustain if not increase the high prices at which they have been sold for the last few years. But we can assure them that such is not the fact. Guns are fifty per cent. cheaper now than ever. You can buy a good navy or pocket revolver for about six to fifteen dollars, which formerly brought from fifteen to twenty-five dollars, a good shot-gun for two to ten dollars, a good double barrel shot-gun for ten to twenty-five dollars—formerly sold for twenty to forty dollars. Rifles, first-rate, ten and twelve dollars—formerly twenty to forty dollars each; and everything else in the sporting or hunting line is selling at equally low prices.

We are not aware of the cause of the decline in prices, nor shall we attempt to explain it, but if any of our readers are in want of anything of the kind, and are in doubt as to the truth of the above assertions, they would do well to call at J. H. Johnson's Great Western Gun Works, corner Penn and Wayne streets, in this city, where they will find a full assortment, and at prices to suit the wants of all.

A MISSIONARY to the South Sea Islands was so unfortunate as to lose a fine head of hair by sickness, and being unprovided with proper restoratives, returned to England to recruit his health. "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative" had not then been discovered, and on regaining his health the missionary provided himself with a wig, and returned to the scene of his labors. The natives, with natural simplicity supposed he had obtained some hair seed which he had planted on his poll, and produced a luxuriant crop of the capillary substance. The Missionary humored this idea for a while, and promised to get them some hair seed, but finally astonished them by lifting his wig. They all shouted with one accord, "He has come from England with his head thatched."

There are too many gray and thatched heads at the present day, and these would be fewer were the use of "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative" more universal in the country. While it is not exactly a "hair seed" it will prevent premature baldness and grayness, and is a delightful article for the toilet.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?—Victim of debility, who is responsible for your feebleness? Not yourself you will say, for you've done all you could to cure it. That's a mistake on your part. You haven't tried HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Gloomy dyspeptic, with an uneasy stomach and a world-weary face, of course you don't think yourself responsible for your own torments. But you are. It is easy to see from your condition that

You haven't tried HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Bilious sufferer, it is not your fault, you think, that your system grows worse day by day. Blue pill doesn't do you any good. Very likely. But you can be brought around for all that.

Why haven't you tried HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Friend, on whom Fever and Ague alternately blows hot and cold, and whose brain seems to be bursting with the effects of some powerful drug, do you assume the responsibility? O, no! You've taken piles of quinine, and all the regulation medicines. What could you do more? One thing more—the very thing that would have exempted you from all the pangs that now rack you.

You have never tried HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Nervous invalid, what have you to say? You plead that you have taken all the nervines of the pharmacopœia. If they have done you no good, it is not your fault. You are not responsible. Wrong, all wrong. You have, in reality, nobody to blame but yourself.

Why haven't you tried HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

For all the above-named complaints, the Bitters are absolute specifics.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY EVENING, May 10th, 1867.

The gold premium is still settling down from the late advance, and shows less firmness than it did at any time during the week. Some who have been holding for an advance expected to grow out of a liberal export movement, subsequent to the payment of the May coupons, are disappointed at exchange still ruling below the specie shipping point, and are now selling out. There are, however, others who are disposed to hold on, on the supposition that ere long there must be a demand for shipment. The fact that although the gold collected on coupons has not been sent out, yet the amount stands debited to our account and must be remitted soon or later, tends to sustain the premium.

—A cotemporary journal remarks that the sympathies of the public are with the sanguine and cheerful operators for higher figures, but for many months these prudent sympathizers have not deemed it best to back up the "bulls" with material aid in the shape of orders for large purchases. The impression among the outside capitalists seems to be that speculative stocks are being sold just now at about their real value; that to purchase them at present rates would not insure large and speedy profits; but if the "bears" succeed in depressing them, purchasers are ready to buy at reduced rates. This pleasant mark of confidence rapidly runs up the prices to where they were before the "bears" commenced their onslaught, and then the purchasers fell off with a remarkable suddenness, and dull and quiet days set in at the Stock Board, just such as are enjoyed there at present.

—From inquiries made in the Treasury Department to-day, says a dispatch from Washington, it appears that the number of National banks organized at this date is 1,671; closing and closed, twenty-three; whole number in actual operation, 1,647; aggregate capital paid in, $422,913,856. The number of National Banks qualified as depositories is 385. The number heretofore depositories, but now in liquidation, is five; the whole number of banks now in operation as depositories, 386. Under the act of August 6th, 1846, there are eight Assistant Treasurers or officers performing the duties thereof, and twelve United States depositories.

—The New York Times notices an omission that will apply here with equal force. It says: Our attention has been called to the occasional, not to say frequent, violation of the Revenue Law in regard to stamping memoranda of sales of stocks and gold. The stamp tax, under the amended law of 1866, is exceedingly moderate, and ought not to be neglected or intentionally violated. The money proceeds of sales only are taxed, not the par values, and the stamps required amount to only one cent on the $100. A formal memorandum, duly stamped, should accompany every sale, no matter by whom or for whose account the stock is delivered, or how often the same stock is passed from hand to hand the same day. The practice, which we learn is somewhat common, of buying on speculation for cash or on three day options, and then reselling and delivering (or making a set-off) through a third party, without stamps or the payment of the value thereof, is a clear violation of the law, subject to a heavy penalty, besides vitiating the whole transaction. Another practice of pasting one denomination of stamp over another to save room on the memorandum of sale is liable to abuse, if, indeed, it comes within the direction of the law.

MR. EDITOR—Many persons desirous of converting 7-30's into 5-20's are at a loss in making a selection of the latter, the different issues all being quoted at different prices. Will you please explain briefly the difference in value or desirableness? Respectfully,

PHILA., May 4, 1867. SEVEN-THIRTY.

Domestic holders of 7-30's generally convert them into the January and July 5-20's of 1865, being lower priced, accumulated interest considered. The lower the 5-20's of course the more of them will the 7-30's buy. As those of January and July pay just as much interest as any of the other classes, they are worth just as much as an investment to hold. Some convert into the 5-20's of 1864, they, from some unexplained cause, being a fraction lower than the May and November 5-20's of 1865. The 5-20's of 1862 are preferred for the foreign market, even at an advance in price. They are as high now as the long 6's, though really no more valuable than the 5-20's of January and July.—Phila. Ledger.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE IRON, COPPER, STEEL, LUMBER, AND OTHER MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY EVENING, May 10, 1867.

PIGS AND BROOMS—The market, since our last, was dull and sales unusually small, mainly to fill and complete orders that were on hand. The business of the season appears to be near its close, although there was a good deal of inquiry during the week, but the transactions were light. The prospects for the coming week look more favorable, and we hope to record in our next sales worthy of note. The few sales of the week were either on private terms or too small for notice. We observe that in New York there has been a little better demand for Scotch pig, and the market is firmer at about previous rates, with sales of 200 tons Glengarnock at $41; 200 do. Langloan, $39, ex-ship; and 400 do. Eglinton, $41@41 50 from yard; the latter is now held at $42. American has lost its activity, but retains its firmness, and holders of foundry are looking for higher rates, makers of best brands asking $42 for No. 1, and $40 for No. 2 ex; but we notice 800 tons No. 1, deliverable at furnace on Hudson river, at $40. Forge is offered rather more freely and is less firm than foundry; 75 tons city rails brought $40 currency.

IRON—Prices remain unchanged. There is a fair demand for nails, and the trade in bars, &c. has improved considerably over what it was a few weeks ago, but is still far behind the business usually transacted at this season of the year.

STEEL—The market is dull and prices remain unchanged from the quotations given for several weeks past. There is a good stock in the market of all descriptions.

COPPER—There has been no change since our last report. The market continues very dull. We notice that in New York, new sheathing and yellow metal are without further change. Ingot has become quite dull again, and prices are ½@¾c ₱ lb lower; the sales are 150,000 lbs in lots, at 24c for Detroit, and 23½c for Portage Lake and Baltimore; and 50,000 lbs Red Letter Baltimore, 23½c.

TIN, ROOFING, &C.—Articles coming under this head continue to be very dull, and for sale at former quotations. The New York Commercial List reports the demand for pig still very limited, and prices are without improvement; the sales have been confined to 100 slabs Banca at 25c, gold; and 5 tons refined English at a private price; Straits nominally at 21½@21¾c, gold. Plates are also dull, and for some descriptions lower prices are accepted; sales have been made for 500 bxs, ½ X at $9@9 12½ for 1 C; 400 do R G Charcoal Terne, ex steamer, $8 37½, all gold; and 600 do. on terms not transpired. Stock of pig of all kinds, here and in Boston, 1st inst., 21,400 slabs, against 36,600 slabs same time last year.

GLASS—There is a large supply on the market, and prices, although unchanged as yet, are tending downward. The only demand is for window glass. On account of dullness in the trade and the excessive amount of stocks, the Eastern works will suspend operations within the next month, and our manufacturers will, no doubt, from appearances, act in like manner. Our manufacturing and jobbing warehouses are full of stock.

HARDWARE—There has been some improvement in trade since our last report, but as yet there is room for a large amount of business, when we compare it with the previous seasons at this time of the year. In New York, according to the Commercial List, of Wednesday last, business in American continues about as last noted, without any perceptible improvement, or falling off in demand. Prices of some goods, however, have a downward tendency. Strap and T hinges are reduced to list. Carriage and tire bolts are unsettled and irregular, the combination having been broken up—we quote now 40@60 per cent. discount from list, some holding for the higher price, and others selling at the lower rate. American files can be bought 7½ per cent. off previous quotations. Rules, levels, bevels, try squares, &c., are in improved demand. Table cutlery is steady at previous prices, with a good demand. Plated forks and spoons, and brass goods are dull. Saddlery goods continue inactive. There is quite a brisk small demand for tinware at old rates. All common foreign goods continue very dull, and prices are nominal. Butcher's files continue very scarce, and much wanted.

LUMBER—The receipts from the Allegheny pine regions have been large, and with the exception of common lots there is but little for sale. Since the arrival of rafts some two millions of feet of boards, averaging from 15 to 25 per cent. of the upper qualities sold to our yard men at from $23@25 50 ₱ M. Prices from yard are unchanged from our last quotations. We notice that in Cincinnati there has been some large sales of river lumber during the last few days. Some small rafts sold at $20@24 ₱ M feet as it runs, and about 4,000,000 feet better than the usual run at $28, a part to local dealers and part to Louisville.

LEATHER AND HIDES—There has been no change in prices since our last report, but there is a strong tendency for an advancement in order to keep pace with the Eastern markets, where nearly all kinds have gone up. In New York prime stock is reported as continuing scarce. The receipts are fair and stock light. We quote Rio Grande and Buenos Ayres, light weights, at 30½@31½c; middle do, 31@32; heavy do, 30@32c; California light, 29½@30½c; middle do, 30@31c; heavy do, 29@30½c; Orinoco, &c., light, 28@30c; middle do, 29½@30½c; heavy do, 27½@28c; slaughter upper, in rough, 35@39c. Oak soles in steady demand at our quotations.

FRUITS AND CONFECTIONARY.—There continues an active trade in foreign fruits, and in confectionary generally. There has been no change in prices, and stocks are in good supply. The New York market is reported by the Commercial List as very dull, there being little or no inquiry for invoices, and but a small demand for jobbing lots; the business has been chiefly in raisins, which are again a little lower, and sardines are about previous rates. The sales are 3,200 boxes layer raisins, in lots, at $3 70@3 75; 100 bbls currants, 11½@11¾c; 10 casks Turkish prunes, 20½@20¾c; 50,000 Baracoa cocoa nuts, $50; 15,000 Matanzas pine apples, $14; 100 bushels Wilmington pea nuts, which are scarce, $3 62½ ₱ 26 lbs; sound Messina oranges, $4 50@5; Sorrento, $5@5 50; Lemons, $3@4; 100 cases half and 1,100 do quarter boxes sardines, on private terms; 1,600 sloniers Brazil nuts, 100 bags filberts, and 1,000 kegs tamarinds, on private terms. Domestic dried are also dull. Apples may be quoted all the way from 6½ up to 10c ₱ lb; peeled peaches, 35@40c; unpeeled halves, 15c; and unpeeled quarters, 12c, cash. By auction, 7,781 boxes Messina oranges, damaged, sold at $2 85@3 40; and 1,340 do lemons, damaged, $2 25@3 45, cash.

BOOTS AND SHOES—There is no new feature in the market, the business continues light and unchanged. There is an excellent stock of all descriptions for sale.

ALES—Are in good supply and unchanged; crackers are active at last quotations. Brooms are in moderate demand and unchanged. Paper continues in request at former quotations.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY EVENING, May 10, 1867.

There was a little more activity observable in the general markets to-day; but still in all departments of business there is a noticeable fact, that trade continues to be confined to necessity—and this limited to stern economy. There were no changes of any consequence in prices. Breadstuffs continue to realize high figures, and there is still an active demand, whilst receipts continues very limited.

The receipes of leading articles of produce, per river and railroad, since our last, were as follows: Flour 1,883 bbls; apples 38 bbls; cheese 58 boxes; corn 2,458 sacks; barley 271 sacks; rye 230 sacks; oats 1,762 sacks and butter 40 packages.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale prices unless otherwise stated:

FLOUR—We can report to-day an active and excited feeling in the flour market. Prices have not advanced materially, not to exceed 25c on yesterday's rates, and at these figures our dealers are getting but small advances over cost, freights, &c. We note sales by one of our largest dealers that are ahead of anything lately recorded in this market, at prices ranging from $14@16, as follows: 100 bbls Eclipse at $14 50; 100 do Crescent at $14 50; 200 do Desplaine's at $14 75@15 00; 200 do Sears's at $15; 200 do Elkaldor at $14 75; 100 do Farina at $15; 100 do Jenkins's Lilly at $15 50; 100 do Dayton Snow Flake at $16. Stock now in first hands is light. Receipts are confined to a few of our principal dealers. Higher prices are looked for during the next 60 days.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, May 11, 1867.

Business, so far as relates to oil, was dull. Buyers were disposed to wait for lower prices. How long they will have to wait time only will determine. The river to Oil City remains in good navigable order, with a fair amount of oil arriving. Since our last report, 10,110 barrels have been received. The only sale reported was 400 barrels bulk of 43 gravity at 6¾c, being a decrease from yesterday's transactions. The supply of oil in the market is sufficient for present purposes.

REFINED OIL—The market was dull. The sales of bonded reported for future delivery, amount to 3,000 barrels, at a slight decline in prices. We note as follows: 500 bbls bonded, prime light straw to white, this month's delivery, Philadelphia, 26c; sales 1,000 barrels bonded, Philadelphia, prime light straw to white, 26½c; sales 500 barrels prime light straw to white, July, Philadelphia, 27c; sales 500 barrels standard white, June, 27⅛c; and 500 bbls do, July, 27½c. PITTSBURGH DRY GOODS MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY, May 10, 1867.

Trade for the week has been very good, and as our jobbers are able to place goods in the hands of dealers at low prices, purchasers are supplying themselves with considerable freedom.

The recent auction sale in New York brought some goods, such as Denims and Stripes, very low, but the great mass of fabrics are quite steady.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—Business on the landing was dull. The bulk of the Spring trade is over. Both rivers are in good navigable order. The Monongahela marks indicated eight feet and a half. The Allegheny marks nine feet and a half and falling. The Glendale arrived from St. Louis with a good trip. The Robert Moore left for Portsmouth on time. She brought up a good cargo. The Leni Leoti was the Parkersburg packet. She will be followed to-day by the Grey Eagle, Capt. Brennan's pet. The fleet packet Belle is announced for Cincinnati this day. The model barges Dove and Swan are receiving for Cairo and St. Louis. The Kate Robinson, an excellent boat, is receiving for Cairo and St. Louis. The Ida Rees, Capt. Joseph Brown, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville. Passengers and shippers can bear this in mind. The wharf yesterday was bare of towboats—rather an unusual occurrence. It will not remain so long. The towboat Fearless came in from Cincinnati with a tow of empty barges. The O. H. Ormsby departed for Cincinnati with almost 8,000 bushels of coal. The Ida Rees No. 2 came in from Oil City. The Urilda left for the oil regions.

THE towboat Fearless came in from Cincinnati with a tow of empty barges.

THE steamer Silver Cloud No. 2, Sherman and Glasgow were at Cairo on the 8th.

THE Glendale came in from St. Louis with a big trip. She will return again to that port.

THE packet Kenton is due from New Orleans with a big load.

THE Allegheny river is in fine boating order to the oil regions.

JOHN GROGAN, fireman on the Armadillo, was drowned at Cincinnati Monday.

DEXTER is the name selected for Capt. Ford's new boat building at Jeffersonville.

THE steamer Leonora No. 2 is loading at Cincinnati for Tennessee River.

THE following towboats arrived at Louisville on Tuesday: Hornet, Bengal Tiger, Tom Rees, N. J. Bigley and Mary Ann.

THE steamer Leni Leoti, Captain Hamilton, left yesterday for Parkersburg with a good trip as usual. We are again indebted to her officers for attentions.

THE steamer Messenger, Captain Dean, left Cincinnati for New Orleans on Thursday, with a full trip.

THE number of steamboat arrivals at St. Louis, for the year ending on Wednesday, was 3,620; tonnage 1,002,381.

A CONVENTION of steamboatmen, called by the New Orleans Marine Charitable Association, will meet at St. Louis next Tuesday, the 14th inst.

BOATS IN PORT—Glendale, Ida Rees, Belle, Maggie Hays, Lorena, R. C. Gray, Delaware, Elisha Bennett, Gallatin, R. Moore, Leni Leoti and Kenton.

THE steamer Albert Pierce is announced as a regular weekly packet between Evansville and Memphis.

THERE is twenty-six feet of water in the channel between Cincinnati and Louisville and seventy-three feet space under the Covington bridge.

THE Parkersburg packet for this day is the side-wheel steamer Grey Eagle, Captain Brennan. This boat is well found in every respect, and Capt. Brennan is a great favorite in the trade.

THE fine packet Belle, Capt. Loughrey, leaves on Saturday for Cincinnati. This boat is well found in every respect, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers.

THE fine packet Ida Rees, Captain Joseph Browne, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville. This boat has the best of accommodations, and is in charge of careful and experienced officers.

THE steamer Wagner, of Cincinnati, running between Omaha and Sioux City, snagged yesterday eighteen miles below Decatur. The boat was loaded with grain and railroad ties, and is a total loss. She was valued at twenty-five thousand dollars.

CAPT. JOHN W. CHAMBERS has taken charge of the office of the Belle, Captain Loughrey, who enters the Cincinnati packet trade this day, on her first trip. We welcome him back to the river. John is one of those you read about.

THE Evansville correspondent of the Commercial reports the tow-boat Horner, with loaded barges, is in the Wabash, above the Grand Chain, unable to get over. As the Wabash is rising, she will probably get out.

CAPT. ANAWALT is again on hand for another barge trip to St. Louis. The handsome model barges Dove and Swan, are moored at the foot of Wood st. These boats will have dispatch. We take pleasure in saying a good word for Captain John and the Wild Duck.

THE fine St. Louis packet Kate Robinson, Captain R. Robinson, is the regular packet for Cairo and St. Louis. This boat has the best of accommodations, and is well found in every respect. Our old friend J. A. Beam does the honors in the office, and they are well done.

HO! FOR THE SUNNY SOUTH.—The fine packet Kenton, Captain Dunlap, is announced for New Orleans direct, being her third trip this Spring. This boat is noted for superior accommodations and attentive officers. Call early and secure a stateroom.

NASHVILLE.—The Times of Tuesday says:

The Cumberland is receding, with seven and a half feet on the shoals. The Havana, from Cincinnati, came in with a tolerably fair trip.

MADISON.—The Courier of the 6th says:

Several barges of hay left yesterday for a Southern market. A large quantity of coal has arrived here within the last week, over 750,000 bushels. A raft of pine lumber, containing 500,000 feet, was landed at the Madison wharf last week.

CAIRO, May 8.—The Great Republic passed up at 9 o'clock, A. M., with a moderate trip. She did a very large way business. She lost thirteen hours aground at Carrollton Landing, and fourteen hours at Memphis, repairing machinery. The Lake Erie No. 3 has also passed up. The Emma No. 3 has 127 tons iron for New Albany, 25 tons for Louisville, and 18 tons iron, 350 sacks salt, 15 hogsheads sugar, 100 beer kegs and 20 tons sundries for Cincinnati.

THE damage to the new steamer Dubuque, in her collision with the Rock Island bridge, is estimated at $10,000, in the collision a portion of the starboard guard, wheel house, and the cabin, was pushed out of the proper position, and the gallows frame broke down. The boat was taken to Carondelet to go out on the ways. When will the proper steps be taken to abate this nuisance? The Rock Island bridge is not the only one; the one at Clinton is equally bad, and the one now in course of erection bids fair to excel both, as the draw is being located on the bar, and will at certain stages of the water prove an almost impassable barrier.

WE take the following sensible article from the New Orleans Republican of the 5th:

The Richmond left yesterday for Louisville. There were a large crowd at the landing to see her off. The Richmond is a fine boat, and has many friends who wish her success. There is no necessity of getting up a spirit of rivalry between the two great boats just built—the Richmond and the Great Republic. The owners of both boats have evinced an enterprise that is commendable. They ply in different trades; neither one has displayed any great speed in running; time will develop which will wear the horns. They both should be sustained, and will be.

ST. LOUIS, May 8.—The decline goes on here steadily. The upper rivers are getting down to an ordinary stage; there may even be low water before long. There is a fine stage of water hence to Cairo. The Missouri river boats are bringing down good cargoes, and do not go out without a full cargo of freight and passengers. The Magenta took on one hundred and thirty-seven cords pine knots, and left for New Orleans on Saturday evening, with the Richmond, determined to decide which is the fastest boat. The Golden Eagle left for Cincinnati last evening, loaded nearly to her guards. The Importer leaves to-day for Pittsburgh. The Silver Lake left for Fort Benton, with all she wanted, at low rates. The New Orleans packet lines are greatly agitated by the independent steamer Henry Adkins beginning to load at barge rates.

CAIRO.—The Democrat of the 5th says:

The steamer Diana, in June, 1838, made the trip from New Orleans to Louisville in 5 days, 23 hours and 15 minutes. In the year 1840 the Edward Shippen made the same trip in 5 days 14 hours and a quarter. In April, 1844, the Sultana made the trip in 5 days and 12 hours. In May, 1849, the Bostona made the trip in 5 days and 8 hours. In June, 1851, the Belle Key set all this fast time in the shade, by making the trip in 4 days and 23 hours. In May, 1852, the steamer Reindeer did still better, by making the run in four days, twenty hours and forty-five minutes. Subsequently, in the same month, the famous Eclipse, then the finest boat that had ever made its appearance, made the trip in four days and eighteen hours. In May, 1853, the A. L. Shotwell made the run in four days, ten hours and twenty-nine minutes, and in the same month and year the Eclipse, under the command of Captain Sturgeon, made the quickest trip on record up to that time, viz—four days, six hours and thirty minutes. In her race with the Eclipse, the Shotwell made the run from New Orleans to Cairo in three days, three hours and forty minutes. The time of the J. M. White, we believe, still stands unequalled. The run of 1,200 miles, from New Orleans to St. Louis, was made by the White, in the year 1840, in three days and twenty-three hours. Twenty-seven years have elapsed since then, yet the skill and genius of our people have produced no craft that has proved herself equal to this marvellous running.

FIRST MORTGAGE BO[NDS] OF THE CENTRA[L] PACIFIC R. R.

This Company is constructing u[nder the] patronage of the United States Govern[ment] the Western end of the Great National Railway A[cross] the Continent.

Their line will extend from Sacr[amento], California, across the Sierra Ne[vada] the California State Line, traver[sing the] Richest and most Populous Section [of Cali]fornia, and thence through the Gr[eat Mi]ning Regions of the Territories, to [the vi]cinity of Salt Lake City.

It forms the sole Western link of [the] route to the Pacific which is aid[ed by] Congress and aided by the issue of [United] States Bonds.

Their road is already completed [and equip]ped and running for 94 miles from [Sacra]mento to within 12 miles of the su[mmit of] the Sierras, and a large amount of t[he work] of Grading, Tunnelling, &c., beyo[nd this] point has been accomplished.

The First Mortgage Bo[nds of] this Company afford unusual induce[ments] Safety and Profit to Investors, for the[...] ing among other reasons, viz:

First. The rate of interest is Six per [cent.] Gold, payable semi-annually in [...] New York.

Second. The Principal is payable in [gold at] maturity.

Third. The cost of the Bonds, Ninety [per] Cent. and accrued interest, is Ten Per [...] than that of the cheapest Six Per Ce[nt.] Bearing Bonds of the Government.

Fourth. The United States Govern[ment pro]vides nearly half the amount necessary [for] the entire road, and looks mainly to a s[...] entage on the future traffic for re-payme[nt].

Fifth. Owing to this liberal provision [accom]panied with Extensive Grants of Publi[c Lands] by which the Government fosters this [na]tional enterprise, its success is rendered [...] and its financial stability is altogether in[...] of the contingencies which attend ordina[ry rail]road enterprises.

Sixth. The Security of its First [Mortgage] Bonds is therefore ample, and their char[acter for] safety and reliability is equalled only b[y] the obligations of the Government itself.

Seventh. The net earnings of the co[mpany's] portion are already largely in excess of th[e] obligations which the Company will incur [...] the distance, and are steadily increasing, [secur]ing the uninterrupted payment of the In[terest] solutely certain.

Eigth. At the present rate of Gold t[hey pay] nearly 8½ Per Cent. per annum, on the [amount] invested.

The Bonds are issued in denominations of [...] with semi annual Gold Coupons attached, [payable] in New York, and are offered for the prese[nt at 90] per cent. and accrued interest (in curren[cy) from] January 1st.

Orders may be forwarded to us direct, or [through] the principal Banks and Bankers in all par[ts of the] country.

Remittances may be made in drafts on Ne[w York] or in Legal Tender Notes, National Bank [Notes, or] other funds current in this city, and the Bo[nds will] be forwarded to any address by express, [free of] charge. Inquiries for further particulars, by [letter or] otherwise, will receive punctual attention.

SOUTHWES[TERN] PACIFIC RAILROAD [COMPANY]

SEVEN PER CENT.

First Mortgage Bo[nds]

$2,000,000 in Coupon Bo[nds] of $1,000 Each,

TWENTY YEARS TO RUN,

Principal and Interest Guarantee[d by] the Atlantic and Pacific Railroa[d] Company,

And secured by property valued at $7,500[,000,] consisting of their completed road to the Gas[conade] river, 127 miles from St. Louis, and 35[...] Acres of Rich Agricultural and Mineral La[nds] its line.

The road passes through a country rich in a[gricul]tural resources and in minerals, and particul[arly] in iron and lead: the iron ore of the Sou[thwest] Missouri being the purest known, ranging fr[om 60] to 90 per cent. of pure iron. Rich and extensi[ve de]posits of specular oxide and red and brown hem[atite] abound all along the line of the road and on the [com]pany's lands in greater quantities than the tota[l] deposit of any State in the Union, and a large [busi]ness is now being inaugurated in freighting [this] ore for the Eastern furnaces, the vast excess in [...] of this over other ores paying the difference [...] of transportation.

By a provision of the mortgage, when lands a[re sold] to the amount of $40,000, it is to constitute [a fund] for the redemption of a like amount of bonds, [which] are also received by the Company at PAR in pa[yment] for land. This land is now being disposed of a[t prices] from $5 to $40 per acre. The climate is re[markably] salubrious, and the mean temperature th[e same] as in Virginia, the winter being short and mild. [For] particulars respecting lands, address Colonel A[...] BERT, Land Agent, at St. Louis, Mo.

The Company has been recently merged wi[th the] Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company, hav[ing a] land grant of 55,000,000 of acres, thereby [...]ing to the fullest to the security of these bonds[...]

The road of the latter Company, when comp[leted,] will form a direct and continuous railway fro[m St.] Louis to San Fransisco, much shorter and of [...] easier gradients than any other route.

Of the present issue of bonds, a limited amo[unt is] now offered for sale at the low rate of 80 per [cent.,] subject to advance at the option of the Compan[y.] For further particulars apply to
